What are the Youth Olympic Games?

What?

The Youth Olympic Games are an elite sporting event for young people from all over the world. Distinct from other youth sports events, it also integrates a unique Culture and Education Programme (CEP) based on five main themes: Olympism, Social Responsibility, Skills Development, Expression and Well-being and Healthy Lifestyles.

The sports programme is based on that of the Olympic Games, with 28 sports featured on the summer programme and seven on the winter programme. In addition, the programme also includes exciting new disciplines and formats, such as 3-on-3 basketball, and mixed gender and mixed National Olympic Committee (NOC) events.

Away from the field of play and through a variety of fun and interactive activities, workshops and team-building exercises, the CEP gives the participating athletes the opportunity to learn about the Olympic values, explore other cultures and develop the skills to become true ambassadors of their sport.

Who?

The Youth Olympic Games aim to bring together talented young athletes aged between 15 and 18 from around the world (205 National Olympic Committees participated in Singapore 2010 and 69 in Innsbruck 2012).

The Summer Youth Olympic Games feature over 3,500 athletes and are held over a 12-day period, while the Winter Youth Olympic Games feature over 1,100 athletes and last 10 days.

Non-athlete participants, namely the Young Reporters, Young Ambassadors and Athlete Role Models, are also an integral part of the Youth Olympic Games.

When?

Just like the Olympic Games, the Youth Olympic Games are held every four years. The first summer edition was held in Singapore from 14 to 26 August 2010, and the first winter edition was held in Innsbruck, Austria, from 13 to 22 January 2012.

The 2nd Summer Youth Olympic Games will be held in Nanjing, China, from August 16 to 28 in 2014 and the 2nd Winter Youth Olympic Games will be held in Lillehammer, Norway, in February 2016. The 3rd Summer Youth Olympic Games will be held in Buenos Aires, Argentina in 2018.

Culture and Education Programme

"Participating in the Youth Olympic Games is not simply about sport and performance. It is also about meeting people of other cultures and backgrounds, learning about important skills in an athlete's career and about experiencing the Olympic values." Thomas Bach, IOC President.

The Youth Olympic Games involve competing, learning and celebrating. As an intrinsic feature of the Youth Olympic Games, the Nanjing 2014 Culture and Education Programme (CEP) has been designed as an once-in-a-lifetime experience to inspire young participants. A rich and diverse choice of activities will enable athletes and other young participants to learn life-skills, grow in their sporting careers and achieve a healthy lifestyle.

Activities will be organised in and outside the YOV for the athletes and other young participants. The programme will inspire young people to become part of the Olympic Movement, embrace Olympic values and carry forward the Olympic spirit.

Nanjing 2014 CEP offers the "Ode to Youth" vision, with a mission to bestow upon participants a surprising and memorable YOG experience, spread the Olympic spirit, enhance the influence of Nanjing, inspire extensive participation, build a new CEP platform, dedicate to the application of new technologies, and focus on the continuation of the Olympic legacy.

Please visit the website for more information about CEP events.

Travelling in Nanjing

Brief Introduction to Nanjing Nanjing is one of the four famous ancient capitals in China and a city of profound cultures and history. For thousands of years, the Yangtse River gave birth to civilisations along it and the city of Nanjing. As a city in Jiangnan (the area south to the Yangtse River), Nanjing is interlaced with rivers and streams and surrounded by mountains and fronted by water, where people describe it as “where the dragon coils around and the tiger crouches by”. In addition to its charming nature, there are many historic monuments.

Weather

Nanjing 2014 will be held during peak summer when both the temperature and humidity are high, and there are frequent thunderstorms in the afternoon. You are advised to pay close attention to the changing weather conditions and be prepared for the heat and rain. With the strong summer sunlight in Nanjing, it is advisable to wear sunglasses, hats and sunblocks.

Accommodation

The hotel industry is well developed in Nanjing where there are hotels of international luxury brands to budget hotels. The area around the Confucius Temple (fū zǐ miào) along Qinhuai River will be the most popular. During Games-time, the city will receive a large flow of visitors from both home and abroad; it is therefore strongly advised that you book the hotel in advance. Hotels in Nanjing provide disposable toiletries, slippers and towels

Electricity Specification

The standard voltage for residential use is 220V and the sockets are mostly two-round-pinned, two-flat-pinned or three-flat-pinned, so foreign visitors may bring adaptors as needed.

Drinking water

Tap water in Nanjing may not be consumed directly. For your personal health, please do not consume tap water unless it's marked with direct consumption.

Internet

Nanjing has a lot of Internet cafés and some cafés and bars also offer free Internet access. In addition, certain hotel rooms are equipped with Ethernet ports and you may enquire about the charges and activation procedure at hotel receptions.

If you need more city information or have any suggestions regarding city services or need help in case of non-emergencies, please dial common service hotlines of the city.

Tourism

////// Nanjing City Wall of the Ming Dynasty //////////////////////////////////

Nanjing is encircled by the city walls of the Ming Dynasty, where every few steps you will catch a glimpse of city wall. It is the longest wall in China but also in the whole world.

The Ming City Wall represents a perfect combination of China's ancient military defence facilities and city wall construction techniques. It is incomparable from the perspective of its design, scale and functions, not to mention historic achievement, ornamental and archaeological values.

In 1988, the Ming City Wall was listed as a key national protected cultural relic site. In November 2011, it earned a place on the Chinese World Heritage Long List as Chinese City Walls of the Ming and Qing Dynasties.

////// The Mother Tree of Nanjing - Sycamore

Sycamore, also known as Fatong or Fawu in Nanjing, holds a special place in the heart of Nanjing citizens.

Cherished for centuries in China as symbols of faithful lovers, the sycamores of Nanjing will be at their full sumptuous growth during Games-time of Nanjing 2014.

So wherever you travel throughout China's ancient capital city, you can enjoy the cool shade by sycamores.

In 1925 when Nanjing was constructing Dr. Sun Yat-sen's Mausoleum, sycamores were planted on both sides of Zhongshan Avenue and Mausoleum Road. Later, the Nationalist Government planted another 200,000 sycamores were planted and the trees became an integral part of Nanjing City.

////// Travel Back in Time: The Stone Carvings of Six Dynasties

You don't need a time machine to travel "back in time" when you can visit any of the 17 mausoleums scattered around Nanjing!

Fancy a bit of time travel to six Dynasties of China's treasured past? You can view these magnificent mausoleum stone carvings distributed throughout Nanjing, Jiangning, Danyang and Jurong.

Among them are the 17 mausoleums which comprise primarily of Qilin, Tianlu, Bixie, stone columns and tablets.

These highly prized carvings, including angular stone columns and winged stone beasts, reflect the communications that was made between Chinese, Greek and Persian cultures.

////// A Bygone Era with Endless Tales

As a saying goes "the city of Nanjing represents half the history of the Republic of China".

As the capital of the then Nanjing today is left of architecture. There are over scattered along Avenue, unique. They may ordinary houses behind every door endless tales of a Nationalist Government, with a substantial number dating back decades. 1,000 buildings Zhongshan constituting a cityscape. appear to be in Nanjing but and curtain are bygone era.

Qinhuai Snacks

Qinhuai snacks originated from the period of the Six Dynasties (222 - 589), and gained popularity during the Ming and Qing dynasties.

Wu Jingzi, a Chinese writer and scholar, wrote in The Scholars, "Pour each other wine and eat until after noon. Du Shenqing then calls for snacks: dumplings, duck buns, duck-oil bread and soft fragrant cake, followed by a bowl of Maojian Tea from Lu'an for everyone".

Sounds great!

Among the Qinhuai snacks, the best are the eight known as the "Unique Eight Snacks of Qinhuai". Seven snack shops in the Confucius Temple area are famous for their outstanding ingredients and tastes. Culinary experts from the Nanjing Qinhuai Delicacy Research Association have named these eight sets of snacks of Qinhuai (and there are more than eight items) back in September 1987, and they are:

- Tea Eggs
- Duck-oil Bread
- Twice-Dressed Tofu
- Steamed Silkies
- Duck-Blood Soup
- Yuhua Stone Rice Balls

- Five-Spice Beans
- Sesame Oil and Bean Curds
- Fried Dough
- Fried Stinky Tofu
- Pan-Fried Beef Dumplings
- Steamed Plum Cake

- Yuhua Tea
- Vegetable Buns
- Tofu Pudding
- Dim Sum

You may take public transport such as metro and buses for free with Nanjing 2014 tickets valid on the day. However, this does not apply to airport shuttles and taxis.

Airplane

Nanjing Lukou International Airport serves as the commercial airport of Nanjing. Located on Lukou Street in Jiangning District of Nanjing, it is 35.8 kilometres from downtown Nanjing. It is a major airport that can manage major international airplanes and is the primary cargo airport of eastern China. In 2005 it was named a “world clean airport” by the World Health Organisation.

Currently under major expansion, the airport serves more than 130 routes to 54 major domestic cities, 20 international destinations and three cities of east China region, with weekly air traffic surpassing 1,200 flights.

There are two methods of transportation from Nanjing Lukou International Airport to downtown, one is the airport shuttle bus and the other is by Metro.

1. Airport Shuttle Timetable:

■ From Airport to Downtown Nanjing

Airport Shuttle No. 1 (City East Line): Starts from the arrival of the first flight until the last flight each evening and stops at Yuhua Square, Qinzhong Bridge (formerly Qinhuai District Government), Xihua Gate and Nanjing Railway Station.

Airport Shuttle No. 2 (City West Line): Runs between 9: 30 and 22: 30 and stops at Cuipingshan Hotel (replaced by Airport Shuttle No. 1 after 22:30), Nanjing South Railway Station and Zhonghuamen Metro Station.

■ From Downtown to Airport

The Airport Shuttle departs daily between 6: 00 and 21: 00 from Nanjing South Railway Station to the airport every 20 minutes and stops may be found inside the Coach Station of Nanjing South Railways Station. Passengers travelling to the airport may purchase tickets at the Coach Station. The journey time from Nanjing South Railway Station to the airport takes approximately 40 minutes.

The bus from the East Square of Nanjing Railways Station to the airport stops at No. 221 Longpan Middle Road east to the city. Buses 17, 36, 44, 59, 71, 97, 141 and 309 stop at the departure point on East Square of the railway station. The Metro and many other bus routes also stop here.

Buses 27, 34, 37, 49 and 306 towards Gongyuan Road or Changfu Street stop at Longpan Middle Road Station. The Buses depart from the railway station every 20 minutes between 05:40 - 21:00 and reach No. 221 Longpan Middle Road within 15 minutes.

2. Stage One of Nanjing-Gaochun Intercity Railway (Airport Line)

Nanjing-Gaochun Intercity Railway Project Phase I (the Airport Line) will be placed into operation before Nanjing 2014. By then, it will take just 30 minutes from Nanjing South Railway Station to Nanjing Lukou International Airport.

Train

Nanjing is currently served by the Nanjing Railway Station and South Nanjing Station and their respective Coach Stations.

1. The Nanjing Railway Station faces Xuanwu Lake and sits alongside Xiaohong Mountain. Trains that stop there include Beijing-Shanghai Railway, Shanghai-Nanjing Intercity Railway, Nanjing-Wuhu Railway, Nanjing-Xi'an Railway and Nanjing-Hefei Railway. Metro Line 1 connects the Nanjing Railway Station. Passengers can take metro to their destinations once they step out of the railway station.

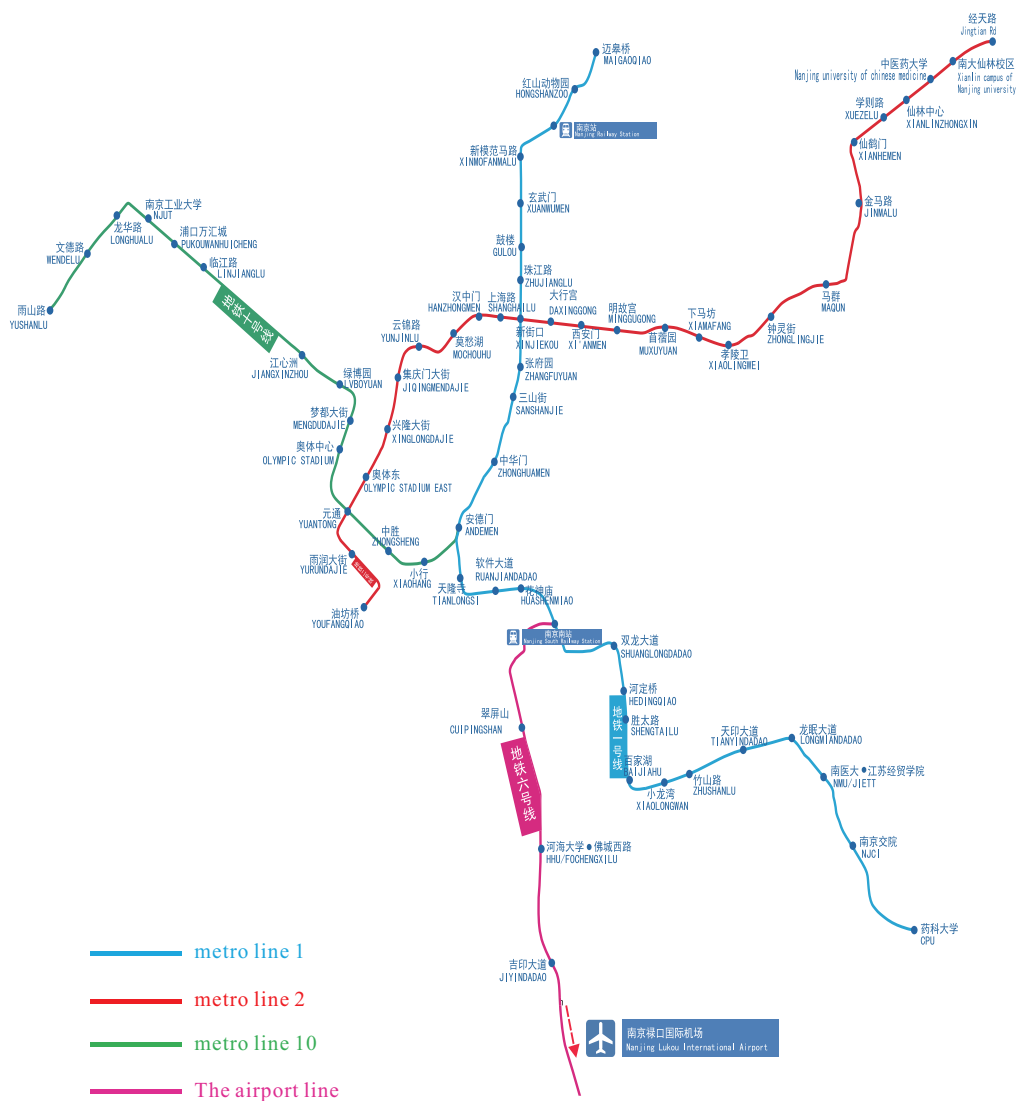

2. Nanjing South Railway Station is located in the core area of the new town south to Downtown Nanjing. Currently, trains that stop there include the Nanjing-Chengdu Railway, Beijing-Shanghai High-Speed Railway and Nanjing-Hangzhou High-Speed Railway. The station occupies a floor area of approximately 458 square kilometres, making it the largest railway station in Asia. The southern extension of Metro Line 1 connects Nanjing South Railway Station.

4.1 ATHLETE ELIGIBILITY

- The athletes have the nationality of the country/region that they represent.
- The athletes should be holders of Kukkiwon Dan/Poom Certificates.
- To be eligible to participate in the Youth Olympic Games, athletes must have been born between 1 January 1997 and 31 December 1998.
- Have been nominated by the relevant national taekwondo association that is recognized by the World Taekwondo Federation and by their NOC.

4.2 QUALIFICATION PATHWAY

The YOG Qualification Tournament will be held in conjunction with the 10th WTF World Junior Taekwondo Championships in 2014 but as a separate event.

An NOC, through its WTF Member National Association, may enter in the WTF World Taekwondo Qualification Tournament a maximum of three (3) men and three (3) women athletes, with one athlete maximum per weight category.

There will be five weight categories for each male and female division in the YOG Qualification Tournament.

The eight (8) best ranked athletes in each weight category will earn their NOC a qualification place, in the respective weight category.

For the weight categories in which the Host Country elects to use its Host Country places, only the (7) seven best ranked athletes, in this weight category, will earn a qualification place for their NOC.

4.3 HOST COUNTRY REPRESENTATION

The host country shall not participate in the qualification tournament, as it shall be automatically qualified in three (3) men's events and three (3) women's events.

4.4 UNIVERSALITY PLACES

To be eligible to receive Universality Places, athletes must comply with the Eligibility criteria as defined under 4.1 of this document.

Should the technical level allow it, 20 University Places will be allocated to eligible NOCs.

5. Qualification Timeline

Date	Milestone
March 2013	Validation of final allocation of Universality Places by the YOG Tripartite Commission
Between 1 Feb. 2014 and 31 May 2014	YOG Qualification Tournament in conjunction with 10th WTF World Junior Taekwondo Championships (TBC)

8 July 2014	Entries deadline by name for all sports
16 – 28 August 2014	2nd summer Youth Olympic Games – Nanjing 2014

6. Competition Format

The Teakwondo competition of YOG Nanjing 2014 will be run in Single elimination system. One competition will have 2 minutes x 3 rounds with 1 Minute break plus Sudden Death and Decision of Superiority in case the tie scores.

7. Competition Rules & Procedures

The Teakwondo competition of YOG Nanjing 2014 will be held in accordance with WTF Competition Rules ( 2012-12-26 ) in force as of the start of the competition.

8. Equipment & Clothing

WTF's recognized Protector and Scoring System ( PSS ) will be used for the Competition. Participating contestants are required to wear WTF-recognized doboks and WTF-recognized protective equipment. The latest version of WTF-recognized manufacturers' list is available at the website of WTF (<http://www.worldtaekwondofederation.net/>).

The Organizing Committee will provide PSS and the head protector to the participating contestants. Participating contestants are required to bring their own groin guards, mouthpieces, gloves, sensing socks and shin and forearm guards for their personal use.

Before entering the field of play, all contestants will proceed to the inspection desk for inspection of their doboks and protective equipment. Any contestant who wears unofficial doboks or protective equipment will not be permitted to compete.

Instant Video Replay ( IVR ) System will be used.

9. Doping Control

The Nanjing 2014 Anti-doping team will plan and implement the YOG Doping Control Programme in accordance with the World Anti-Doping Code, IOC Anti-Doping Rules and other related international standards.

The Doping Control Programme will specify the anti-doping activities to be conducted during the Games-time, including notification procedures, sample collection, storage and transport to the laboratory of China Anti-Doping Agency accredited by WADA.

The Programme is aimed at maintaining the dignity of the Olympic Movement and protecting athletes' fundamental right to participate in clean sports, so as to promote the health, justice and equality of athletes in sports events.

The test biological specimens, including urine and blood samples, will be collected from selected athletes from the date of YOV official opening to the date of the Closing Ceremony of Nanjing 2014 (12 August to 28 August 2014). All samples will be sent to the laboratory of China Anti-Doping Agency for analysis.
